

Senka Krivić

Senka Krivić joined Intelligent and Interactives Systems (IIS) lab at February 3rd 2014 as PhD student. There she is working on a SQUIRREL project and as teaching assistant on a prosemiar Introduction to Intelligent and Autonomous Systems. Her work is under the supervision of Professor Justus Piater.

Previously, she obtained a Bachelor and a Master degree in Automatic Control and Electronics at Faculty for Electrical Engineering, University of Sarajevo. During her studies, Senka focused on mobile robotics and intelligent control. Her bachelor thesis was "Mobile Robot Map Building" and master thesis was "Biometric Authentication Based on Artificial Neural Network", both under supervision of Professor Samim Konjicija.

Research Interests

Robotics, Machine Learning, Robot Learning, Movement Primitives, Computational Intelligence, Optimization, Nonlinear Control
